MASON KOREA
George Mason University

Change of Home Campus
(from Korea to Fairfax)

Mason Korea students who begin their degree program in Korea typically spend a year of their education on the US campus in Fairfax, Virginia. However, if a student wishes to deviate from the usual timeline and wants to attend the Fairfax campus, a student must change his/her home campus from Korea to Fairfax by filling out the form below.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Discuss future academic plans with your academic advisor before filling out the following sections of the form.
2. Go to Patriot Web and make sure that you are not registered for courses in the upcoming semester.
3. Students must be free of all administrative holds.

IMPLICATIONS OF CHANGING HOME CAMPUS TO FAIRFAX

- You must stay at the Fairfax campus until graduation.
- Your departure from the Korea campus must be reported to relevant Korean government authorities including the Ministry of Education, Korea Immigration Service, and Military Manpower Administration (if applicable).
- The law requires Korean male students in the Korean Reserve Forces to report to the local center and terminate their student status within 14 days of completing their last semesters at Mason Korea.
- After the change, you will pay your tuition fee directly to the Fairfax campus (Fairfax tuition rate applies).
- You may not be eligible for receiving scholarship funds supported by the Korea campus.

By signing and submitting this form, I acknowledge that I have read and understood the above information, accept responsibility, and officially declare my intention to change my home campus from Korea to Fairfax.
