UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENTS FOR ADVANCEMENT

Dissertation research (999) is open only to doctoral students who have advanced to candidacy. The Registrar's Office will not code advancement in the student's record until confirmation that the following requirements have been met.

Candidacy Requirements:

- 1. Official documentation of Undergraduate degree
- 2. If applicable, official evaluation of international transcripts
- 3. If required by department, official documentation of Master's degree

NOTES

- 999 Registration deadline: Students must be advanced to candidacy by the advancement semester add deadline in order to register for 999 that semester. If the add deadline has passed, students must wait until the following semester to register for 999.
- Students working on dissertation research (999) must register for a minimum of 3 credits of 999 per semester (excluding summers) until they have completed the minimum number of credits of 998 and 999 required by the university and their degree program. Then, they must register for 1 credit of 999 until the dissertation is complete and has been officially submitted to the library.
- The Non-Course Requirements worksheet, page 2, must be completed at time of Advancement to Candidacy. Please list all exams, portfolios, proficiencies or other requirements for candidacy that are required by your program.
